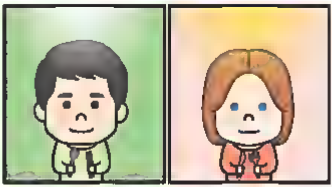
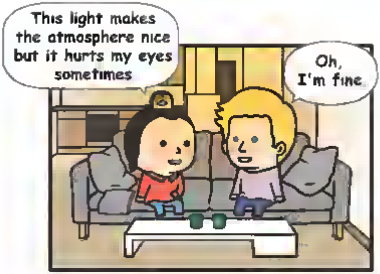
Under the yellow light.

Did you know that Korea and the UK use different types of lights?

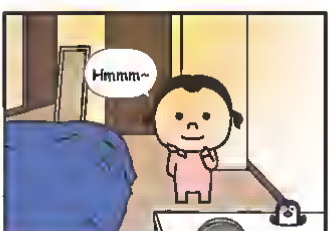


Korea usually uses white light and
Britain usually uses yellow light

As I didn't grow up under the yellow light,
it sometimes causes problems for my eyes

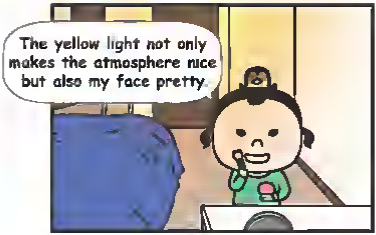


So far a while
I thaught Karea's white light was better than Britain's yellaw light.



But one day, I naticed that...

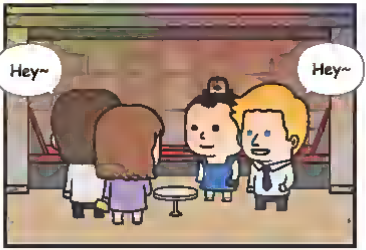
..... my freckles and wrinkles were less visible under the yellow light!!

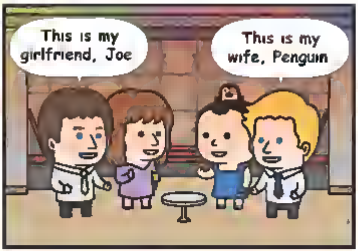


It was all fine and I put my make-up on with a carefree attitude.

Since I figured out the advantage of yellow light, I loved the yellow light.

I went to a party with confidence.

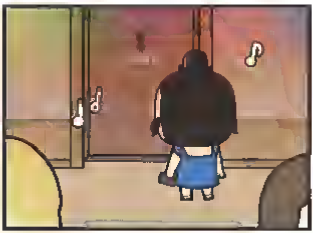


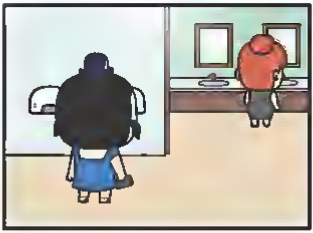


This is my girlfriend, Joe
This is my wife, Penguin

Haha.
Hoho
Excuse me.
Haha.

But then,..





...when I suddenly met a white light in the UK which is normally filled with yellow lights,...

(Overdone eye-shadow, foundation, cheeks, lips and shading..)

... I saw Jigsaw in the mirror.
